THE DAILY AVALANCHE

Rev. Chapin gets $10,000 salary, and Beecher $12,500.

Thirty-seven Horse Stealers in a row! Not a bad team.

Miss Mary McVicker and Edwin Booth appeared in Baltimore on Monday evening last.

T. T. Fleming, of Memphis, has been granted a patent for a cotton scraper.

Gerlowski, a Pole, has made a memorial bust of Artemus Ward, and sells him for ten guineas.

At Trenton, New Jersey, the State convicts are allowed outside of the walls of the prison to visit beer saloons.

George Law and Commodore Vanderbilt are among the New York notabilities who do not go to church.

Base ball talk in certain Southern circles, as formerly, is as full of slang as that of the prize ring. "Daisy cutters," "sky scrapers," "muffs," etc., are already acclimated. "Gobbled the huckleberry" is the last version of "taking it on the fly."

The art of "convincing" is henceforth to be taught in New England. A public spirited Bostonian has given $15,000 to Andover Theological Seminary to found a tutorship of elocution to train the students in the art of "apt, forcible, tasteful and convincing public address."

The Main Election—Unexpected Result.

Threatening State of Affairs Between Russia and Turkey.

CLEVELAND, September 11.—The Fenian Congress adjourned yesterday after one week's stormy session. The question whether women should be admitted to circles was answered in the negative, because of their inability to keep secrets.

President Roberts' report of his foreign mission was read. He stated he found the Fenians of Ireland much discouraged at the failure of the Canadian invasion, but finally succeeded in convincing them that it was owing to the corruption and masterly inactivity of the Stephens wing. He was pleased to announce that he had effected a bond of union between the brotherhoods of Ireland and America. He said Irish independence could not be achieved without the aid of American Irishmen.

Colonel Roberts was re-elected President, but declined unless Congress would raise $500,000 for the cause. Half that amount was pledged, and after further consultation Roberts accepted the position. A declaration of principles was afterwards adopted and given to the public, as were a series of resolutions, which professed hearty co-operation with the friendly press, disclaiming and forbidding any use of the Brotherhood for political purposes in connection with the present parties in this country, etc.

NEW YORK, September 11.—A New York special says Ben Wade made a speech at Cleveland, Ohio, yesterday. Very little enthusiasm was manifested among his audience, which was composed of about five hundred persons. He expressed his conviction that the country is in a perilous crisis, and that President Johnson intends to settle it at the point of the bayonet. In private conversation he remarked that the late amnesty proclamation was war upon the Union, and that impeachment ought to be expected.

Another batch of the correspondence concerning the Alabama claims has been published.

A Bangor, Maine, special says the result of the election yesterday in Maine astonished both parties. The immense Republican majority last year, which was 28,000, has been nearly if not entirely overcome, and it will take some days to decide whether the Radical candidate for Governor is elected. The counties of York, Knox, Lincoln, Washington and Aroostock certainly have been gained by the Democrats, and others are in doubt.

The Herald's Washington special says the committee investigating the treatment of Union prisoners in rebel prisons are daily receiving a large number of letters from intelligent men who have particulars of the barbarity of rebel prisons, all of which are being arranged and digested. It is thought the committee will meet here about the first of October.

Merchants and other business men in Richmond are very indignant at the false charge of general insolvency brought against them by the correspondent of a New York Radical paper, and will probably hold a meeting to denounce the author of the report.

Lord Stanley, in his despatch dated May 24th, handed to Mr. Seward by Sir Frederick Bruce, while the two were fishing at Auburn during the summer, consents to arbitration, provided two disinterested tribunals were established, one to decide upon the responsibility of the British Government in the depredations committed by rebel privateers, and then to adjudicate the claims on both sides. To this Mr. Seward, in despatch dated August 12th, objects as unnecessary, claiming that if there should be two tribunals, they should be clothed with the same power.

Excitement in Brooklyn is considerable, over alleged fraudulent operations among high revenue officials. Deputy Collector Allen has published a card, declaring the whole charge malicious, but withholding further developments on his own side of the controversy until his principal, Mr. Callicott, returns from Washington.

BERLIN, September 11.—The second parliament of the Confederation of the German States met today, and was formally opened by King William in a speech.

The King commenced by addressing a warm welcome to the representatives as members of the first German parliament which had met under the new constitution. Alluding to the position of the North German States, he said that the natural relations with the rest of Germany had been fixed by the treaties of Zolverein, which they had signed. He inserted the members that the financial condition of the Confederation was excellent. In regard to the army, while sufficient provision for all expenditures of it and that bills would be introduced providing for the complete and equal settlement of terms and conditions of military service, making all necessary regulations, passports, prescribing weights and measures for the Confederation, and all matters relating to commercial and marine confederation everywhere on the high seas. The King concluded his speech with the following peaceful aspiration: "Confidence, progress will be the great principle underlying all your discussion. Your work will be a work of peace, and, by God's blessing, the fatherland will in peace enjoy the fruits of your labor."

CONSTANTINOPLE, September 11.—The Russian Ambassador has presented the Porte with another note, [illegible] which demands [illegible] protection of Orthodox Christians [illegible] full equality [illegible] Christians and Mahommedans in the provinces of Turkey. The demand is declared to be the ultimatum in Russia, and no answer is asked within ten day. In the diplomatic circles war is regarded as almost inevitable.

Commission for Selling Cotton $1 per Bale

To the Cotton Planters of West Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi and Arkansas:

THE undersigned respectfully tenders his services as Agent for the sale of your cotton in this city, and for the purchase of supplies. The unfortunate termination of the late war, which so materially affected the best interests of the South, has also had its effect upon the commission business of this city, as transactions between planter and merchant, from confidence will recognize with what persistently, (previous to the war) advancing in some instances to near prices, you were solicited for your business, at the rate of 50c per bale for commission, fee of drayage, and storage for twelve months without charge. Then (as will be again) the predecessor was the ruling element, and high rates, rich landlords and merchants, were the causes of planters' embarrassment.

No people or occupation have been more seriously prostrated than the planting and farming, and we see no means to be interested and aided in their unfortunate changed condition.

How to aid, as much needed, has been pointed out, yes, I opine, too well know. Onerous government taxes in general, and a special tax upon your leading production; large profits you have had to pay upon supplies furnished; commission to sales, varying from 50 to $2 per bale; monthly storage at exhorbitant prices, and other as pretexts, as per reference to your personal sales, as a rule, (special, will there be) and little, if anything, upon which to rebuild your shattered fortunes, or start a crop with any new order of affairs. Some, if I withdrew from the cotton commission business in the private trade, and I feel safe in believing I was the first engage in it again. The solicitations of many friends, the interests of the former, and a desire to promote the interest of the planting community, as far as my feeble effort can do so, and the appreciation of gratitude exhibited in a community that I have spent the best, has induced me cheerfully to the proposition. Memphis and its mercantile community has exhibited the regard to offer my services in the especially as stated. The present stock of cotton in the United States and most especially in the hands of New Orleans factors and Cincinnati merchants is prizes from the late depression. Some carry over may be prudence and remunerative. Such was the case the past year by planters, and many planters have had cause to regret selling upon the top coming and not holding and draw on their cotton, as they advise no planter to do now. Cotton will be wanted to sold upon the first active market; it can be held at home much cheaper than in Memphis.

My charges for selling cotton will be one dollar per bale. Insurance effected in all cases, to and from market, if planters shall buy your supplies from wholesale houses, giving you the benefit of same. In others, by actual agreement to your interest in all the departments of our business. I hope to merit a large share of patronage.

Very respectfully,

R. A. MOON.

THURSDAY, : : : : : SEPTEMBER 12, 1867

THE "weak, washy and everlasting flood" is still pouring. We allude to HENRY WARD BEECHER'S tale in the New York Ledger, called "Norwood; or, Village Life in New England." We have managed to wade through this stuff from chapter firstly to thirty-firstly, and we must be permitted to say that there never was as much chaff scattered broadcast over the land. BONNER, the magnificent humbug who presides over the Ledger, has secured a copyright to BEECHER'S fustian, which was entirely unnecessary, as publishers and literary thieves could make more money in picking up pins and old rusty nails than by stealing BEECHER'S twaddle. Nothing but the suggestions of an inordinate vanity could have prompted this old hypocrite to appear before the public as a novel writer. It is related that KEAN, the great tragedian, on a certain occasion, finding it impossible to excite the applause of a London audience by one of his most splendid delineations, suddenly threw himself into a comic attitude and began to dance an Irish jig, greatly to the surprise of all, and somewhat to the amusement of his unappreciative audience. BEECHER was seized with a similar freak, when he descended, from his position as a divine and commenced dancing a literary jig in the columns of the New York Ledger. Notoriety is as indispensible to some individuals as water is to the existence of a fish. It is their "beings end and aim,"—the one thought by day, and the one dream by night. For its attainment no hardship is too great to be endured, no sacrifice too great to be made. At the head of this class is the restless, uneasy, fanatical BEECHER. Possessing far more tact than talent; more shrewdness than sincerity; more Yankee cunning than honesty; more zeal than genuine knowledge; more pretence than piety; more parsimony than patriotism, he has managed by his peculiar adroitness to obtain a good share of what he so much covets, what he so ardently worships in his inmost soul. The idol enthroned in his heart demands no sacrifice he is not willing to make—piety, devotion, religion, duty, any thing short of heaven itself, he is willing to abandon, so he can build a Bable and make himself a name. Those who are acquainted with this strange individual have often marvelled, as did one of the persons in the play, who inquired upon what he could have fed that he had grown so great in the estimation of the superficial and the less informed. To us, there is nothing wonderful in all this. With those who care not to attempt to distinguish between glitter and gold, paste and diamonds, it is not surprising in the least that the rifle preacher should acquire an ephemeral popularity. He is a curiosity, and as such is attractive to the mass of the people, who are fond of all sorts of things that are out of the common order. The Woolly Horse, the Feejee Mermaid, the Prince of Humbugs found attractive at his museum, until the cheat was discovered. Other strange things excite wonder and astonishment for awhile, and why should not the Rev. HENRY WARD BEECHER, the belligerent follower of the Prince of Peace? The secret of all his ephemeral notoriety can be told in a very few words. Mr. BEECHER ostensibly belongs to a staid, sober, dignified, Christian denomination; a body of Christians who do not countenance latitudinarian principles, much less frivolity and mountebankery in the pulpit. Mr. BEECHER aims to depart as widely from their rigid rules of propriety as he possibly can; loses no opportunity to satirize their creed, disparage their most deeply cherished doctrines, and cover the professors of their faith with ridicule and contempt. Persons that would be attracted by a gladiatorial combat, were such things permitted at the present day, rush to hear this theological prize fighter deal his hard hits at his own brethren. The other places of amusement are closed on Sunday, and a crowd can easily be gathered to enjoy the next best thing in the acting line, and this they find at Mr. BEECHER'S church. His sermons are a sort of miscellaneous jumble of Lyceum essays, political squibs, epigrams, bon mots, a dash of satire which elsewhere would be known by a harsher term, a free recklessness of all the restraints usually observed in the pulpit; the crowd are tickled with the originality of a preacher who talks as profanely, with as much flippant impiety, as they are accustomed to hear in lower resorts about town. This sort of pulpit oratory takes with a certain class; it is odd; the preacher is an original; he belabors Christians and their doctrines with right hearty good will. He attacks time-honored opinions in a slap-dash sort of way that is quite refreshing to the hater of truth and genuine devotion, and his church is filled, as would be a circus or a play house, were similar performances announced in the bills of the day. The opponents of the faith he ostensibly advocates, all pet and flatter him as a wonderful champion in human progress. He is demolishing his own superstructure, undermining his own temple, and they cheer him on in his labors. Being within an orthodox communion, his blows fall upon an unguarded spot, and are the more keenly felt, because given by a professed friend. It is perfectly evident that this reverend gentleman has entirely mistaken his profession. He lacks every requisite qualification which a true minister of the gospel possesses. He has no power of analysis; consequently his discourses are rambling, incoherent rhapsodies, covering all questions, topics and subjects that can well be imagined, but having not the remotest connection with the particular text selected. Sometimes miscellaneous, sometimes political, anon satirical, and what the mass call "funny," he manages to talk by the hour as consecutively, as far as any particular subject is concerned, as a dictionary would be cut up into fragments and scattered among the congregation.

"HAVE you heard the news from Maine?" Such was the slogan of politicians long years ago, when the far down-easter rolled up an unexpected and, for her, unparalleled majority. May it not be well applied at the present time? The hackneyed metaphor of a clap of thunder in a clear sky, as a surprising phenomenon, could not cause greater consternation than the telegram announcing the great "break down" in Maine. Talk of a bomb shell bursting in the enemy's camp! Why, that would be nothing to it. Amazement paralyzes the Radicals with fear.

"Hear it not, ye stars!

And thou, pale moon! turn paler at the sound!"

We, too, were taken by surprise, but most agreeably. We expected to hear of a reduced Radical majority, but did not dream that the defection had been so startlingly, and to us, welcomely great. The turning point has been passed. Vermont came with a falling off in her customary strength, by thousands, although the obstinate Green Mountaineers accomplished their usual success in carrying the election. Then California "astonished the natives" by an overwhelming majority over the Radicals, sweeping them away like chaff before the wind, and revolutionizing the entire State. Almost in the same hour Montana sent her contribution of "sweet sounds" to swell the general harmony. Now Maine shakes her sturdy pines, while through their plume-like tops the breeze sweeps with the weird voices of the tempest. Amid these voices, may not the wail of crushed and broken spirits be heard, that have so long fairly shrieked with wild laughter at the fancied supremacy of their the evil machinations? Only to think that Radical majority of twenty-eight thousand has been overcome, or so nearly overcome that apprehensions of utter discomfiture have been entertained by those who had been cutting their fantastic tricks as though they were chartered to govern with despotic sway! Is not "light breaking in the East?" May we not hope for the dawn of a brighter day?

Secretary Browning has entirely recovered from his recent illness, and is again attending to the duties of his office.

It appears that the defalcation in the office of the Controller of the Currency is between $2,000 and $3,000. The money was taken from the fund assessed on National banks for the payment of the Inspectors.

It is ascertained from official data that, since April 18, 1865, about eight thousand pardons have been granted by the President. These include some of the rebel Foreign Ministers, agents, members of the Confederate Cabinet, Governors of Southern States, and upwards of ninety Brigadier Generals, with a due proportion of rebel Major Generals.

Secretary McCulloch has issued a corrected statement, which shows that the debt, less cash in the Treasury, has decreased in the last month $18,525,000 96, instead of less than $6,000,000, as shown in the erroneous statement. The corrected statement also shows that the debt has been reduced since the 1st of September, 1865, $264,905,-208 38. If this rate of reduction could be kept up, the entire debt would be paid off by July 1, 1887.

The tobacco factory of Kirkham, Brown & Graham, in Cairo, Illinois, was seized, on the 9th, by Inspector Hogeland. They are charged with defrauding the Government with false brands. The brands and marked boxes were taken possession of by the officer. Colonel Graham is the "loyal" imported Postmaster of Cairo, and Colonel Kirkham and Brown, all conspicuous for excessive "loyalty" to Congress and the darkey. The case creates some stir among "loyalists."

The Titusville (Pennsylvania) Herald of the 9th says Myers Marks, M. J. Marks, H. J. Marks and Jacobs were to-day convicted at Warren, Pennsylvania, and assessed heavy fines and imprisonment for secreting the goods of M. Marks, for the purpose of defrauding H. B. Claflin and other New York creditors of M. Marks. The case was a highly important one, witnesses being in attendance from New Orleans and California. Numerous parties were interested in the result in different parts of the country.

Major Steel, chief of the pardon bureau, of the Attorney General's office, has had on file for the past two years about four hundred applications for pardon from persons who were engaged in the rebellion and not pardoned by the proclamation of May 29th, 1865. By the proclamation of Saturday about one hundred of these persons are pardoned, but the other three hundred those within the exception, and of course their cases, like others similarly situated, must be severally considered.

Questions Under the President's Proclamation.

FROM NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, September 11.

Mr. Roebling, engineer of the new projected bridge over East river, has made a report. He states that the bridge will terminate at Chatham Square, New York, and near the Fulton Ferry. The total length will be 1800 feet, and the center span will be 155 feet above high water mark. The total amount of the structure is estimated at $5,675,327. It will permit the transportation of 20,000 persons daily.

Another revenue fraud has been discovered in Brooklyn, by which the Government lost about $9,000. Some 1,000 barrels supposed to be filled with liquor in the bonded warehouse, Nos. 28 and 29 Sedgwick street, had been emptied of their contents by J. C. Thompson, the keeper, has been arrested and held over to bail in the sum of $20,000.

There was a great Masonic picnic at Jones' Wood, to-day. Representatives were present from all the principal cities of the country, and the dancing lasted several hours. Brother Edward Cornell, of Canada, delivered the lecture, on Charity, and Mayor Hoffman presented a Bible and jewels of the East, ern Star degree.

A large body of school teachers, representing nearly all sections of the Empire, is in session here. A resolution in favor of petitioning the authorities for separating the public schools from the church, was passed with great unanimity.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, September 11.

Additional lists of persons pardoned in Virginia, Alabama and Georgia, is now in course of preparation at the Attorney General's office. They number about 10,000, which makes an aggregate of upward of 18,000 pardoned up to the 7th instant.

Questions have arisen as to whether the recent proclamation excludes from pardon those who held a brevet rank higher than that of a Brigadier General, and also as to whether the terms "Agents," in addition to Ministers and Consuls, will include those who went abroad to sell bonds and cotton there. These questions will be decided in the order of presentation.

There is no prospect of any changes in the Cabinet, although rumors to this effect continue to prevail.

The Greatest Cough Remedy Ever Discovered.

DR. C. WILLIAMS'

Compound Pulmonic Balsam of Wild Cherry and Wood Naptha,

FOR THE COMPLETE CURE OF

Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Asthma, Bronchitis, Spitting of Blood, and all other Lung Complaints, tending to Consumption.

READ! READ! READ!

THIS justly celebrated preparation is recommended by some of the most learned physicians in the country, and will be found far superior to any remedy for the cure of all diseases of the respiratory organs. All parents who have used it for Asthma, Cough, Spitting of Blood, Hooping Cough, Croup or Hives, Consumption, Pain, soreness of the chest, difficulty of breathing, and every other disease of the Breast and Lungs, attest to its superior efficacy in the most unqualified terms.

BRONCHITIS, a disease which is annually sweeping thousands to a premature grave, under the milder name of Consumption, is promptly relieved and cured by it. The usual symptoms of this disease, (bronchitis) are Cough, Difficulty of Breathing, Hoarseness, Soreness of the Throat or Lungs, Asthma, Hectic Fever, accompanied with spitting of phlegm or matter, and sometimes blood. It is an inflammation of the membrane which lines the inside of the nose, of the wind tubes or air vessels which run through every part of the Lungs. This Pulmonic Balsam immediately suppresses the Cough and Pain, subdues the inflammation and fever, relieves the difficulty of breathing, by producing a free and easy expectoration so that a cure is soon effected. It always cures in ASTHMA. Two or three doses will cure the CROUP or HIVES of children in a few minutes, and it is remarkable how promptly it is subduing the violence of HOOPING COUGH, and effecting a speedy cure. And many who have been given up by their physicians as incurable in Consumption, have been restored to perfect health by it.

A PRACTICAL SUGGESTION.—Cotton picking has now fairly begun in Mississippi, and as it will soon be coming into market, we can reasonably look for an improvement in business circles. Our cotton merchants are generally enterprising and reliable; no firm has, however, a higher reputation than that of E. M. Apperson & Co. They have long been engaged in the commission business, and have always given perfect satisfaction to those who have intrusted the management of their affairs to them. Planters bringing in cotton will find here all that cotton merchants should be.

MEMPHIS AND CHARLESTON RAILROAD COMPANY.—At an election held yesterday, for Directors of the Memphis and Charleston Railroad Company for the ensuing year, the following gentlemen were unanimously elected: Sam Tate, George P. Bolton, Samuel J. Donegan, Joseph C. Bradley, Samuel D. Weakley, R. C. Brinkley, Pitser Miller, N. S. Wicks, William Dickson. These gentlemen constitute the old Board, and the shareholders have thereby ratified the action of their service by re-electing them unanimously. We understand that a meeting of the Board is called for Monday afternoon next, at three o'clock, for the purpose of organization, and the consideration of such business as may be brought before it.

THE BASIS OF MEMPHIS PROSPERITY.—The cotton trade has added millions of dollars to the wealth of Memphis; to it and the intelligent and enterprise of the merchants engaged in cotton factoring and commission business, who constitute so important a part of our population, Memphis is indebted for her high commercial standing. All the business men, F. Lahr & Co., corner of Union and Front streets, are most highly esteemed and respected. They worthily know it serves from the straight and narrow line of commercial honor, and planters may safely commit their interests to them. Their acquaintance with their business is of no recent date, they have had years of experience, and are prompt, enterprising, and skilful in all that is requisite to insure success.

LORD AND HIS LIEUTENANTS.—We have just received a volume of this work, fresh from the press, through the Memphis Book Depot. We have not had time to give it a thorough reading, as we are just receiving the publication, but we can assure Mr. Pollard has pursued both a plan for the collection of his material that is to warrant the opinion of his book to be one of the most valuable productions of the period treated with splendid steel portraits of General Lee, and nearly all the corps and division commanders of the Confederate army. In paper, clear, large type, and binding, it is a splendid volume, and will be much sought after.

THE CASE OF MR. MILLIKEN.—A respectable young man named Milliken, after being punished by the civil authorities for using an election day, attempted to prevent a breach of the peace, was arrested by the United States authorities, and thrown into jail, where he has one hundred and seventy-six miles to Louisville, Kentucky, there to be tried again. The grave injustice of subjecting such a man to a second trial for the same offence may be set to rest by the fact that the Attorney General has declared that he will not order Mr. Milliken to be tried there by military authority. It is to be hoped that no other citizen may be subjected to such treatment. Mr. Milliken will be released under writ of habeas corpus issued by Chief Justice Judge Trigg to-day, and the hearing of the ordinary duress to which Mr. MILLIKEN is held. If the United States Court contains that the military have no power to arrest citizens for offences of this nature, we hope to hear no more of military courts for offences against the peace of Tennessee, then there will be an end to such military usurpations. Let there be a Judson empire and civil liberty exist.

The Affrays of Tuesday Night.

When Mayor Lofland, a white citizen, attempted to close the whisky girl saloons, Judge Minter and other good citizens came to the rescue, and in the name of constitutional liberty kept the saloons going. They did not deny that beer jerking saloons were the resort of the lowest and most degraded classes of the city, foul haunts where boys became corrupt, and where thieves and coarse, foul mouthed prostitutes held nightly revels, but then this was a free country, and in a few days some fifteen injunctions were served on the Mayor, who gave up the point. A number of these sinks of crime are on Washington, between Main and Front streets. About that locality hang the plunge, who are supported by dissolute women; professional thieves, who there plan felonies; low gang gamblers, who are so mean that they are not admitted among sporting men, and coarse blackguards who consider obscenity fun. In the saloons liquor that is simply narcotic poison, is sold in large quantities. Among those drinking it are boys, who are there taking lessons in vice, grey haired men who unblushingly spend night after night in that reeking filthiness. Merchants, bankers, clerks, young men from the country, mechanics, old planters, cotton factors, railroad men, are there indiscriminately to see whatever go on, but really because they have taste that are low and debasing. It is natural that a locality frequented by all these classes should be the scene of numberless outrages. In some of the saloons, it is reported, that liquor that is stimulating to the passionately acid, and when strangers or others form intimacies with the lewd women who act as beer jerkers in these dens, affrays, fights, shootings and outrages take place, not unfrequently murders result. The good name of Memphis is damaged; capital is deterred from coming here; trade is injured.

On Tuesday night an old man from the country visited one of these places, and there accompanied one of the drabs to her chamber, in the upper part of the Webster block. Soon afterwards a young man named Jim Stokes, went to the room and, effecting an entrance, at once assailed the old man and girl. The old man, whose name we suppose out of regard for his family, was struck on the head with some weapon, and the temporal artery cut. He was also struck several other dangerous blows, and the bleeding feeble, when he made his escape, and ran for safety to the Worsham House, where his wounds were dressed. Stokes assailed the girl, and gave her a treamendous beating. The police interfered, and proposed to arrest Stokes. He drew two derringers, and threatened to fire if they approached; but the policemen of Memphis are not deficient in courage; in fact, they won't be, or they would quit the business. Those who wanted to take Stokes did not hesitate when his threatened, but, drawing their revolvers, fired, and Stokes fell. He was secured, and his wounds, which were severe, were dressed. One shot struck him in the face, and another in the shoulder. A gentleman under whom Jim Stokes worked for two years, says he was always quiet, orderly and attentive to business. He has not been notorious for recklessness, nor were his brothers so, as has been reported.

At a later hour a fight was sitting in the Cotton Plant at a table, when a fellow entered and at once struck him. A desperate affray ensued, a number of shots were fired, and two persons stabbed. One was badly cut on the head over the eye. His injuries were treated by Doctor Watkins.

Two military fellows quarrelled in the Overton Concert saloon, and one of them named J. M. Maxwell, of the thirty-fifth United States Infantry, shot the other named John Callahan in the left shoulder, inflicting a dangerous wound.

A gentleman who sleeps near the corner of Washington and Main, informs says that from ten o'clock there was almost the whole night shots, cries of murder, oaths and altercations. The police seemed anxious to do their whole duty, but rowdyism was rampant.

ITEMITAS.

A negro named Tom Minors was arrested for stealing a bolt of linen from the store of Rice, Stix & Co., on Main street.

A horse and buggy ran away near the ball ground yesterday afternoon, but no damage was done.

Ned Fell, and another negro named Phil., were arrested for fighting. Neither were much hurt.

Several delegates to the Base Ball Convention, from Knoxville, arrived here yesterday.

A man named Springer was arrested yesterday for whipping his wife with a cowhide, at his house on Gayoso street.

A lady was run over by a spring cart and considerably hurt yesterday afternoon, on the corner of Second and Jefferson streets.

There were only five arrests at the lower Stationhouse yesterday. Four were drunks, and one shooting in the corporation.

A lot of loafers and beer jerkers had a big time and a fine fight at the Cotton Plant last night, and it resulted in John Sloss getting his jaw broken in two places.

The spring wagon of O. F. Prescott & Co., being left unfastened, the horse took fright and the vehicle was damaged to the amount of twenty-five dollars.

The Athletics, a base ball club from Nashville, will be here on the 25th, to play the Eagles of this city, for the Championship of the State.

Pat. Doyle was arrested, yesterday, for stealing a horse and a silver watch from a man named Wells, on the Pigeon Roost road.

The Mechanics' and Stonewall Jackson base ball clubs have consolidated, and will hereafter be known as the Bluff City base ball club. It will probably be one of the strongest clubs in the city.

A man named Sam Howe was arrested yesterday on the charge of shooting inside the corporation at a man named John Smiley. The fight was on Causey street, and began about a negro woman.

The Enterprise and Pride of the South base ball clubs played a match yesterday on the Enterprise ground. There were about one thousand spectators present. The game was closed at the end of the sixth inning in favor of the Enterprise. The score stood: Ent rprise, 27; Pride of the South, 23.

A Coroner's inquest was held yesterday by Squire Miller on the body of a negro found floating in the river near the foot of Beale street. No. had been rocked on the head and thrown into the river. That was all that could be found out relative to him.

It is believed that the Revenue Department will, at an early day, make such regulations as will permit the shipment of cotton from any point to another block, but will hold the Commissioner responsible for the duties on the amount specified in the bills of lading, as well as for penalties in cases of fraud This seems like a common sense arrangement.

Messrs. Ryan and Van Voast have just opened on the Old Raleigh road a half way house between here and the Springs, about four miles from Court Square, is a large and commodious building, and has a full supply of all sorts of refreshments, water for horses, and other funds for drivers of fast teams, who will doubtless now patronize this be.t drive in the vicinity of Memphis.

Lieutenant Roderick D. Bird, who for a long time was the most efficient manager of freedmens' affairs on Freedmen's Island, died on last Tuesday. He served four years in the Federal army, and was devoted to places for the amelioration of the condition of the blacks, but was disgusted with the hypocrisy of the Radical leaders, and during the last gubernatorial campaign incurred their hatred by his exposés. He leaves a wife and six children in Pennsylvania.

A very important surgical operation for Rhinotomy was performed at the Western Infirmary yesterday morning. The operators were Drs. Lynch and Fenner, assisted by several other leading medical men. The operation was done in a masterly manner, and was entirely successful, and the patient is now doing well. Our having in Memphis a well managed institution where the most difficult surgical cases can be treated, and patients receive every attention that they could receive in New York or other Northern cities, is certainly a matter worthy of congratulation.

Memphis has been annoyed and heavily imposed upon by the sick and destitute for hundreds of miles, in all directions, coming here to get relief and hospital attentions. The burden has at last become so onerous that our authorities have taken measures to put a stop to it. They will not undertake to support the paupers and sick of other localities who find their way here, but will send them back to the places whence they came. There are perhaps few places in the country where sick persons can receive the attention that they get in Memphis, but the burden on our city can no longer be carried. Hundreds of both whites and blacks come here from Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi and Arkansas, and, were our authorities to take them all in, half a dozen new hospital buildings would be required, and our municipal taxes be doubled.

Beaumont has left town, and there is a good deal of speculation as to where'abs. Some think that he has gone to Washington to perfect the claim of McKinney for eighty thousand dollars damages during the war, and to sustain Mr. Kinney's loyalty by proof that he did'nt go to Belmont or serve with Beaumont in the Confederate army. Others suppose that Beaumont has gone to see Chase, and representing the Tommy Bingham section procure the registrationship of Bankruptcy for Channing Richards. A gentleman, who is usually well posted believes that Beaumont has gone to look after a Peace Appointment for himself. The opinion is pretty general that the mandamus requiring him to report all money or valuables coming into his hands or those of his subordinates, having been made peremptory he will throw up his position and leave in search of his old associates, Pratt, Horton, Sc.ulbraker, Barnes, Stewart, & Co., who all left between two days to avoid the attendance they were likely to receive from other public officers. It is said freely that Beaumont will leave for Seattle. He will build on to his present good thing as long as he can, and then will return to Connecticut and start a jewelry and diamond store.

LAW COURT.—This court was unusually active on yesterday, having tried by jury no less than fifteen cases. Judge Smith is making every effort to relieve the next term from some of the last cases on the trial docket.

The cases for trial to-day are as follows:

322 Leonard vs Eager

MISCELLANEOUS.

Business on the wharf, yesterday, was exceedingly dull, with nothing doing until the City of Alton arrived in the evening.

The City of Alton, which should have arrived Monday evening, did not make her appearance until yesterday, afternoon she was aground at Phillips' bar, where she found only six feet water. She broke her "nigger" in spacing, and was compelled to get the Nightingale to lighten her over the bar. She discharged her cargo, and left for St. Louis, last night at ten o'clock. The pilots of the Alton report only six and a half feet water between here and Cairo. The channel at Phillips' bar is continually shifting and cutting slowly.

The W. R. Arthur passed down last night for New Orleans

The Victor No. 1, for Hale's Point, was the only departure.

The safe of the Wm. White was robbed of $1,000, on Monday night, at Evansville.

Our worthy historic friend, Charley Morris, of Pacific Plunge, was in the city yesterday.

The Bella St. Louis, Captain Zeigler, is the regular Thursday Cairo and St. Louis packet. She leaves at five p.m.

The Champion, Captain Gregg, is due from Cincinnati. She is to leave for the Ohio on Saturday.

The Gleaner will be found at the wharf this morning to receive for the Arkansas, and leave on Saturday.

The General Quitman, Captain Richardson, leaves Cairo for New Orleans to-day, and will leave here to-morrow at five p.m. for New Orleans and all way points in the bends.

The Mississippi, over due from New Orleans for St. Louis, had not arrived up to a late hour last night.

The John Gilgour was aground at Phillips' bar Tuesday evening.

The Des Arc was to have left St. Louis yesterday for Vicksburg and the bends.

The Pilgrim left St. Louis for the Arkansas on Tuesday. She will ply in the Memphis and Little Rock trade, in command of Captain Ike Whitaker, with Lee Finney in the office.

A pa senger named George Bradish was robbed of two hundred dollars on the last trip up of the Belle Memphis.

Mr. James Dinwiddie, one of the affable and popular clerks of the Robert E. Lee, passed through the city yesterday from Louisville en route to New Orleans. We return Mr. Dinwiddie thanks for a file of late papers.

A gentleman who came through from Cairo yesterday informed us that the Robert E. Lee had been relieved from her precarious condition, and was launched in the river safely. Captain Cannon had examined her and pronounced her all O K.

The Cottage fell into foul hands at Cincinnati Saturday. Two negroes stole two trunks belonging to the Captain's wife, and some time robbed the steward of thirty-five dollars and cleaned out the office of upwards of one hundred dollars in re.

Captain James W. Roland died at St. Lou s on Monday. The flags of all the boats in port were displayed at half mast, in respect to his memory. Captain Roland was in 1861 master of the St. Louis and New Orleans steamer Eclipse, commander J. W Conlee; afterward he was mate of the Autocrat—built out of the J. M. White—in the Memphis and New Orleans trade. Having settled down a while with his family in Memphis, he then took the position of mate of the George Collier, Captain Conlee. We have information to the effect that he was mate of the John Simonds, in the Memphis and New Orleans trade, and Captain of the H. D Mears, running between Memphis and Vicksburg. The war began, and during a portion of the conflict he was commander of the Victoria, running between Memphis and Vicksburg, in 1860 and 1861. During the war, or after its close he went to St. Lou s, and since that event became widely known as commander of the Graham, and afterward of the Adam Jacobs, in the Memphis and St. Louis trade.

The Gudgon will leave St. Louis for Memphis, on Saturday, to resume her regular trips in the Memphis and Arkansas river trade.

The Nightingale, Captain Frazier, arrived from St. Louis last night, en route for Vicksburg. She is receiving at the Star wharf-boat, for Vicksburg and the bends, and leaves to-day at twelve m.

The St. Louis Democrat of Tuesday says:

Heavy rain yesterday afternoon, cooling the atmosphere, and from bright warm sunshine there was a change to gloomy clouds and a cold atmosphere. The rivers still decline. At the boatmen's meeting yesterday it was agreed that barge rates shall be under consideration; rates five cents per barrel, two cents per hundred, and two cents per sack. The steamboat rate was lowered accordingly.

The Cincinnati Commercial, of Tuesday, says:

Captain George H. Alcock and captain Stant J. Batchelor have commenced the steamboat agency and general commission business at No. 6 West Front street, the stand formerly occupied by Fowler & Shearer. Both gentlemen are extensively known in marine and mercantile circles. The Bertha will positively depart for Arkansas river to day.

Interesting Concerning the Turf.

MEMPHIS, September 9, 1867.

EDITORS AVALANCHE: Every day gives increasing testimony of the renewal of the turf spirit in America. The large crowds that attended the race meetings at Jerome Park and Saratoga, the multitude that have crowded to overflowing Narragansett Park, Dexter Park, Kalamazoo, and the thousand and one other places where annual fairs have been held, where the child attraction has been the conflicts between trotting horses, (which fairs, by the way, have been facetiously called by a Kentuckian "Presbyterian races,") all show how much the American people's delight in the contest of speed between horses—the noblest of animals.

In former times the South was most famous for turf races, and the North for trotting, growing in a great measure out of the different habits of the people; the former almost raising their boys in the saddle, while the latter were more accustomed to "the wagon," but of late the people of the North have come out strongly also upon the turf, while the South as far as her poverty stricken condition will permit, is still exhibiting her passion for the races.

Kentucky is now the great race horse region, and has sent forth more runners of late years than any other State. Kentucky, Norfolk, Asteroid and Lexington, blue grass progeny of Lexington, and bred by M. Alexander of Kentucky, have surpassed all their competitors.

But Muggins and Ruthless have lately challenged comparison with the world, and won distinction for their respective States, Tennessee and New York, and it is difficult to say which will prove victor should they ever meet. The English claim that the performances of Sir Tatton Sykes and West Australian stand unrivalled.

Stonehenger, an English writer, says that the race of Sir Tatton Sykes, three years old and carrying one hundred and nineteen pounds, over the St. Leger, one mile and three-fourths and one hundred and, thirty-two yards, in three minutes and sixteen seconds, "is the most extraordinary performance of a three-year old ever made—or at the rate, as nearly as possible, thirteen and one-half seconds per furlong. With an additional year and the same weight this speed has been slightly exceeded by West Australian, over a longer course, as at Ascot, in 1861, when he defeated Kingston by a head only, running two miles and four furlongs in four minutes and twenty-seconds—or, as nearly as possible, at the rate of thirteen and one-half seconds and one-third per furlong." This performance is the best in modern days, considering the weight, the age and the distance.

Let us see how these compare with the American race, Henry Pewit, 3 yrs., 97 lbs., mile at New Orleans 1 46¾.

Stonewall Jackson, 3 yrs., 90 lbs., made at New Orleans 1¼ miles in 2.13¾.

Kentucky, 4 yrs., 116 lbs., made at Saratoga 2 miles in 3.35½.

Kentucky, 4 yrs., 116 lbs., made at Saratoga 3 miles in 5.24½.

Kentucky, 4 yrs., 114 lbs., made at Saratoga 4 miles in 7.13½.

Muggins, 4 yrs., 119 lbs., made at Saratoga 2 miles in 3.30.

Brown Dick, 3 yrs., 86 lbs., made at New Orleans 3 miles in 5.39.

Lexington, 4 yrs., 101 lbs., made at New Orleans 4 miles in 7.19¾.

From these statements, which is the fastest time on record? It will appear that the American horses have carried weight in all instances equal to the English, and on this ground they claim superiority. Lexington, it appears, ran at the rate of 13½ seconds per furlong. Brown Dick, 13 54 seconds per furlong. Kentucky, as near as may be, 13 54 seconds per furlong. But as this and the others above named, except Muggins and Ruthless, carried light weight, we will compare them alone with the English celebrities.

A mile and a furlong, 1 mile 1 furlong, 1 mile 2 furlongs, 1 mile 3 furlongs, 1 mile 4 furlongs, 1 mile 5 furlongs, 1 mile 6 furlongs, 1 mile 7 furlongs, 2 miles, 2 miles 1 furlong, 2 miles 2 furlongs, 2 miles 3 furlongs, 2 miles 4 furlongs, 2 miles 5 furlongs, 2 miles 6 furlongs, 2 miles 7 furlongs, 3 miles, 3 miles 1 furlong, 3 miles 2 furlongs, 3 miles 3 furlongs, 3 miles 4 furlongs, 3 miles 5 furlongs, 3 miles 6 furlongs, 3 miles 7 furlongs, 4 miles, 4 miles 1 furlong, 4 miles 2 furlongs, 4 miles 3 furlongs, 4 miles 4 furlongs, 4 miles 5 furlongs, 4 miles 6 furlongs, 4 miles 7 furlongs, 5 miles, 5 miles 1 furlong, 5 miles 2 furlongs, 5 miles 3 furlongs, 5 miles 4 furlongs, 5 miles 5 furlongs, 5 miles 6 furlongs, 5 miles 7 furlongs, 6 miles, 6 miles 1 furlong, 6 miles 2 furlongs, 6 miles 3 furlongs, 6 miles 4 furlongs, 6 miles 5 furlongs, 6 miles 6 furlongs, 6 miles 7 furlongs, 7 miles, 7 miles 1 furlong, 7 miles 2 furlongs, 7 miles 3 furlongs, 7 miles 4 furlongs, 7 miles 5 furlongs, 7 miles 6 furlongs, 7 miles 7 furlongs, 8 miles, 8 miles 1 furlong, 8 miles 2 furlongs, 8 miles 3 furlongs, 8 miles 4 furlongs, 8 miles 5 furlongs, 8 miles 6 furlongs, 8 miles 7 furlongs, 9 miles, 9 miles 1 furlong, 9 miles 2 furlongs, 9 miles 3 furlongs, 9 miles 4 furlongs, 9 miles 5 furlongs, 9 miles 6 furlongs, 9 miles 7 furlongs, 10 miles, 10 miles 1 furlong, 10 miles 2 furlongs, 10 miles 3 furlongs, 10 miles 4 furlongs, 10 miles 5 furlongs, 10 miles 6 furlongs, 10 miles 7 furlongs.

From these figures it will appear that Ruthless, a filly, carrying full weight, according to English rule, has surpassed all the recorded time in England and America up to this date.

Our Memphis Association is reviving, and we hope to have some sport at the fall meeting. In the meantime a very interesting and probably closely contested race will come off over the Metairie Course on the 26th of the month, between Mr. Mosby, a Lexington filly, Emma Duncan and Margie Engil h. I will give you a short notice of these horses before the race.

Yours, truly, LEXINGTON.

MONETARY.

DAILY AVALANCHE OFFICE,
THURSDAY, September 12.

Money was almost a sealed book, double cramped and bound with iron yesterday. The expectation that the stringency that had so long prevailed, would be mitigated, was not sustained. The announcement that gold had gone up at New York to 144¾, and cotton was declining, dull and heavy, had a visible effect upon the market here. Whence arises this want of confidence among the money kings? Is it that apprehensions are growing stronger that the differences between the President and Congress may lead to open rupture, if not collision? Such fears would give a value to gold that no other cause would confer, unless, indeed, the gradual loss of confidence in the national bank system, and the recent failures, may have led to it. The demand for coin to pay duties may have given the sudden impetus to gold; or it may have been a desperate effort of political gamblers, to indicate the unpopular effect of the President's proclamation! But these are mere speculations, and a few days will determine.

The crop prospects in all the region along the Ohio, are said to be unfavorable from the long continued drouth. The tobacco crop has been cut off fully one-third, and the corn crop is not expected to exceed one-half. This, more than ever, shows the wisdom of the South in providing for the home market and subsistence. It will not be dependent upon the short-cropped North, with its consequent high prices.

GOLD—In New York yesterday was excited, and opened at 144¾. The market here was steady; buying at 1[illegible]; selling at 1[illegible].

SILVER—Firm and scarce; buying at 12@12½.

EXCHANGE—Steady; selling on New York and Cincinnati at ¼ premium, and on St. Louis at ½ premium.

CITY SCRIP—Dull, with little doing in the market. Brokers are buying at 89@90, and selling at 92@93.

COUNTY WARRANTS—Were in air demand; buying at 67@68, and selling at 70@72.

POLICE SCRIP—Buying at 70, and selling at 80.

Below we give the rates of banking and business. Dealers old as follows: For Bank of Tennessee, old issue, 80c; Bank of West Tennessee, 60c; Bank of Chattanooga, 10; Bank of Middle Tennessee, 60c; City Bank, 50c; Merchants' Bank, 85c; Northern Bank, 50c; Ocoee Bank, 60; Farmers' Bank, 50; Union Bank, 80; Shelby ville Bank, 85c; southern Bank, 20c; Tradesmen's Bank, 80c; Bank of Knoxville, 82; Commercial Bank, par; Bank of Memphis, par; Bank of the Union, 80c; Bank of Commerce, 80c; Bank of Tennessee, 80c; Bank of Paris, 80c.

New York dispatches of the 8th report another National Bank failure, which makes the fourth that has closed shop in the State of New York in one week. They are tumbling quite freely. The Mechanics and Traders' Bank of Greenpoint, Long Island, incorporated under the late law, suspended payment yesterday on account of the collapse of the Farmers' and Citizens' National Bank of Williamsburg, of which it was an offshoot, and in which its deposits were made.

COMMERCIAL.

DAILY AVALANCHE OFFICE,
THURSDAY, September 12, 1867.

We made the "grand rounds" yesterday among our merchants, and although there was little doing, we found well filled stores, handsome goods of every description, and splendid outfits for gentlemen and ladies. The merchants looked hopeful, and notwithstanding the scarcity of money, and the incapacity or unwillingness of the banks to relax this stringency, looking forward to a prosperous season.

The first bale of new cotton received (yesterday) from this State, was consigned to Pettitt & Co., and bought by R. Bayliss at thirty cents. It was raised in Tipton county.

The first wagon load of new corn was received yesterday. It was of both varieties, white and yellow, and was firm and dry, and stood well on the car, and was creditable to Shelby county farming, having been raised five miles east of this city. It was sold at $1 15, the prevailing rate.

In our rounds, we dropped in at the extensive house of Martin Wall & Co., where we found a magnificent assortment of groceries, etc., which bound inducements to customers, to judge from the free use of the marking brush and the chief clerk, Bob Ferguson, had his hands full in making entries.

COTTON—The market yesterday was inactive, with liberal offerings, but few buyers. Transactions for the day were confined to a few small lots at irregular prices. Prices were weak and unsettled. Buyers are holding off and not purchasing freely. The stock on hand is quite small. The market closed heavy at the following quotations: Middling at 29@29½c; strict middling at 29@29½c; low middling at 28@28½c; good ordinary at 26@26½c.

GRAIN AND GROCERIES.

[NOTE.—Our quotations are the wholesale prices unless otherwise stated, in filling small orders to the city or country trade an advance of three per cent. per cent. is obtained.]

The Mount Auburn Young Ladies' Institute,

SITUATED on that beautiful eminence north of the city of Cincinnati, from which it derives its name, has just entered its twenty-second session.

The past year has been one of unusual prosperity, there having been 85 attendants (two hundred and thirty five pupils in all), and but one case of serious sickness requiring a physician has occurred.

The healthful location and its country position, while yet so near the city, gives it advantages over either city or country school.

Its character as a first rate Seminary of Learning is too well known to need further commendation.

The Library, Cabinet and Apparatus, already very extensive, are receiving yearly additions.

Our Southern Widows and Orphans

IT is the duty of every true Southern patriot to cast in a mite to the support of those who have been left in a dependent condition by the loss of a dear husband or an affectionate father, who laid down their lives in the defence of our capital and homes.

And being impressed with a sense of this duty, I have determined to devote, for the benefit of my own income for that purpose, and the net proceeds of the publication and sale of the first element Southern Literature, for which I have exclusive control of the States of Arkansas and Tennessee, and the counties of Washington, Holmes, Issaquena, Sharkey, Yazoo, Warren and Adams in the State of Mississippi. I am fully satisfied that the good people of said portion will willingly aid me in my donation, and to this end I will employ a gentleman or lady in every civil district, within the above mentioned territory, who feels sufficiently interested in the cause to devote a few weeks time, energy and faithfulness to the business, to canvass their respective districts for our beautiful Southern Historical work.

For such services we will allow a liberal commission on sales.

We ask with the very best of citizens, and those who can and will take an active interest in our enterprise, to whom we refer to the following names, should their desire to make application:
